ly nervous through M. Briand's speech and the translations, so when the time came to spend the John Hancock, they shook, wiggled and blushed piteously.

Dr. Stresemann signed first. The German foreign minister, a pale yellow from his illness, which is sending him back to Germany instead of to Geneva, walked around, poised a solid gold pen and then scratched his name with a flourish, arousing a burst of cheers.

Secretary of State Kellogg was next. He seemed extremely nervous, almost dropping the pen as another round of cheers broke forth.

Briand Remains Calm.

Lord Cuschendun remained exceedingly calm and so did M. Briand, but the representatives of the British dominions seemed overcome with emotion. Even M. Briand of Czechoslovakia was moved slightly.

At 3:55 o'clock the signing began. As the clock struck four it was over, and giant ushers in colorful garb and bearing huge, mean looking halberds and pikes fenced the spectators off from the official party, who walked through a plush lane to M. Briand's private salon, where a tasty buffet luncheon was laid out, and champagnes, port, sherries and tea were served with caviar, ham sandwiches and chocolate eclairs.

Liveried servants in velvet jackets and real silver shoe buckles served the champagnes and handed around the sandwiches, and every one shook hands and congratulated every one else, and the minister autographed visiting cards.

Rush for Souvenirs.

Outside in the clock room the lesser caste people surged around the green baize horseshoe table, snapping up every scrap of paper, blotters, pencils and envelopes as souvenirs of the memorable occasion.

Fortunately, some one rescued Mr. Kellogg's gold pen, and some one else remembered to salvage the treaty just as some momento hunting fanatic was prepared to claim one of the signatures.

Mr. Kellogg then permitted publication of the fact that the American diplomatic representatives in every country in the world, with the exception of Russia and Afghanistan—where there are none—were inviting every one of these countries to adhere to the treaty. The news leaked out Sunday, and a couple of nations already have wired Mr. Kellogg their acceptance.

Poche Applauds Stresemann.

William A. White, the Marquis editor, watched the signing from a vantage point in a big, high backed, gold chair, and Secretary of Labor J. Davis introduced himself to Dr. Stresemann as the latter was leaving Quai d'Orsay.

Ambassador Myron T. Herrick had a kindly word for every one and Professor Poincaré, sitting in the front row of spectators, applauded vigorously when Dr. Stresemann signed.

The humidity and heat was disastrous to the fair sex' complexions, necessitating vanity cases in constant use, and lipsticks and powder puffs worked overtime.

Briand Gives Banquet.

The crowd cheered again as the delegates drove off and then the busy attendants began clearing up the foreign ministry for M. Briand's big banquet.

It was a great day for everybody but the photographers.

"You can't take pictures in a room with all them big chandeliers. Why didn't they take them down?" a grinder of one of the machines of a big news real said.

The menu tonight will be crème de

"Deeply sensible of their solemn duty to promote the welfare of mankind:

"Pleased that the time has come when a frank renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy should be made to the end that the peaceful and friendly relations now existing between their peoples may be perpetuated;

"Convinced that all changes in their relations with one another should be sought only by peaceful means and be the result of a peaceful and orderly process, and that any signal of power which shall hereafter make it necessary for one party by resort to war should be denied the benefits furnished by this treaty;

"Hopeful that, encouraged by their example, all the other nations of the world will join in this humane endeavor and by adhering to the present treaty as soon as it comes into force bring their peoples within the scope of the civilized nations, thus uniting in a common renunciation of war as an instrument of their national policy;

"Have decided to conclude a treaty and for that purpose have appointed their respective plenipotentiaries;

"The president of the German Reich, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, minister for foreign affairs.

"The President of the United States of America, the Hon. Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state.

"His majesty, the King of Italy, Count Gaeleto Mansoni, his ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary at Paris.

"His majesty, the emperor of Japan, Count Uchida, member of the privy council.

"The president of the republic of Poland, Mr. A. Zaleski, minister for foreign affairs.

"The president of the Czechoslovak republic, Dr. Eduard Benes, minister for foreign affairs.

"Who, having communicated to one another their full powers found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

"The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they consider recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

ARTICLE II.

"The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

ARTICLE III.

"The present treaty shall be ratified by the high contracting parties and made a part of the preamble in accordance with their respective constitutional requirements and shall take effect as between them as soon as all their several instruments of ratification shall have been deposited at Washington.

"This treaty, when it has come into effect as prescribed in the preceding paragraph, remain open as long as may be necessary for adherence by the other powers of the world. Every instrument evidencing the adherence of a power shall be deposited at Washington and the treaty shall immediately upon such deposit become effective as between the powers thus adhering and the other powers parties thereto.

"I have no doubt that you are all ready to join with me in the same cordial impulse to one of our colleagues who did not hesitate to come himself and assist with the full moral authority attached to his name and the great country which he represents in the affirmation of his steady faith in the importance of peace and the need which we are about to sign.

"Seated today among us in this hall where his illustrious forerunner, President Wilson, associated already with works of peace so high a consciousness of the rôle of his country, the Honorable Mr. Kellogg is able to measure with a clear pride all the results which we have achieved in this epoch when we examined, both of us, the possibilities of realization of this vast diplomatic enterprise.

Praises Kellogg's Tenacity.

"None is better qualified to take part in the negotiations today brought to a happy ending, a prépondérant part of which was his and which will always stand to his honor in the minds of men. His optimism and his tenacity have overcome human skepticism; his loyalty to his good faith, the good will he brought to his mission by clear and precise explanations, his legitimate misgivings, have won for him the confidence of all his collaborators; his clear-sightedness has shown him what one may expect from governments inspired by the deep yearnings of nations.

"What greater lesson can be offered the world than the spectacle of a union, when for the signature of a pact against war, Germany of her own free will and on an even footing takes her place among the other signatories, her former adversaries.

"The occasion is all the more striking when it is given to a representative of France to receive for the first time since more than half a century

BRIAND PRAISES KELLOGG'S WORK FOR WORLD PEACE

Sees Pact as Dawning of New World Era.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Briand in his address to the plenipotentiaries before today's signing of the Kellogg-Briand renunciation of war pact said:

"Gentlemen, I am fully conscious that silence would best suit such a solemn occasion. What I should like to let each of you simply rise from his seat and go and affix his signature in the name of his own country to the greatest collective deed born of peace. But I should be failing in my duty to my country if I did not tell you how happy it is for the honor of welcoming the first signature of a central pact for the renunciation of war.

"I have no doubt that you are all ready to join with me in the same cordial impulse to one of our colleagues who did not hesitate to come himself and assist with the full moral authority attached to his name and the great country which he represents in the affirmation of his steady faith in the importance of peace and the need which we are about to sign.

New Date in History.

"It will be, I hope, no exaggeration to say that today's event marks a new date in history making.

"For the first time, on general terms accessible to all nations in the institution of war through a solemn covenant involving the honor of great powers which all have behind them a heavy past of political conflict, war is renounced unreservedly as an instrument of national policy, that is to say, in its most specific and dredged form—selfish and willful war.

"Considered of course of war of divine right and having remained in international ethics as an attribute of sovereignty, that form of war has become at last juridically devoid of what constituted its most serious danger—itself.

Agreed to Renounce War.

"Henceforth branded with illegality, it is by mutual accord truly and regularly outlawed so that a culprit would incur the unconditional condemnation and probably the enmity of all its signatories. It is a direct blow to the institution of war, even to its very vitals. It is no longer a question of a defensive organization against this scourge, but of attacking the evil at the root itself. Thus shall war as a means of arbitrary and selfish action no longer be deemed lawful."

RUSSIA INVITED BY FRANCE TO SIGN PACT TO RENOUNCE WAR

MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The French ambassador, M. Herbette, acting on instructions of his government, today handed to Maxine Litvinoff, vice minister for foreign affairs, an official invitation to Soviet Russia to join other nations in adhering to the Kellogg-Briand pact.

M. Herbette told M. Litvinoff that any power hereafter adhering to the pact would do so on the same conditions and with the same advantages as would accrue to those powers which signed today. At the same time he handed M. Litvinoff a copy of the treaty.

Agreed to Renounce War.

"It may not be inappropriate to explain what is finally the essential feature of this pact against war. It is this: 'For the first time in the face of the world through a solemn covenant involving the honor of great powers which all have behind them a heavy past of political conflict, war is renounced unreservedly as an instrument of national policy, that is to say, in its most specific and dredged form—selfish and willful war.'

"Gentlemen, I am fully conscious that silence would best suit such a solemn occasion. ## FOREIGN LANDS AIL TREATY TO RENOUCE WAR

Forged Entente Note Mars British Happiness.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) LONDON, Aug. 27.—The signing of the Kellogg pact to outlaw war in Paris today caused widespread satisfaction here, although the enthusiasm was slightly dampened by the forged note from Sir Austen Chamberlain to Sir H. Brind, published in the United States, as well as the untimely delay of the foreign office in publishing the terms of the Anglo-French informal naval disarmament agreement, which it is feared, will stir a false alarm in America. The British foreign office officially branded the published letter as a forgery.

The foreign quarters' view of the forged note as a dead dyed plot to discredit the Republican administration in the United States. The newspaper Star said: "It is regrettable that the occasion could not be utilized in view of the United States presidential election, for publication in the New York World of an alleged letter from Sir Austen Chamberlain to Sir H. Brind on Aug. 26, in which the foreign office seems to persons responsible for it, and strongly condemn their action in attempting to wreck the peace pact in order to enable them to say to the voters that Republican ministers have done nothing effective for peace."

Denounces British Secrecy.

The Evening Standard warns the British not to count their chickens before they are hatched, and reminds the United States Senate to maintain its league of nations trick. Referring to the forged letter, it said:

"The foreign office has denounced the note as a forgery, but there is a small wonder if forgeries get some degree of credence when the genuine documents are needlessly long with old. For weeks now the French press has been busy with most definite and obtuse statements regarding the agreement, which, if true, would be unquestionably alarming in Europe.

See U. S. Back in Europe.

"By negotiating the pact the United States has promised interest in a new and lasting peace," said the Daily Telegraph. "America is coming back, not indeed to Europe and the League of Nations, but, at any rate to Europe; it is a reinforcement to peace, the strength of which it is difficult to measure."

Perhaps it is the chief visible sign of the times. Not only to prevent war in the future by the most benevolent neutrality of America to those powers seeking to limit war or coerce aggression, but also as a member of a standing committee for the preservation of European peace.

"It may remain an outside little while longer, but the time is coming when the world will be at peace."

"This should be the peace film being made in Paris, and nothing is the opinion of the commanding press. But the bulk of the press pays homage to the 'generous initiative of the United States, which we hope will also lead to a ban of the spirit of Versailles still throttling part of Europe.'

Praised by Japanese Premier.

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The Kellogg-Brind treaty marks the dawn of a new day, said Baron Gi-ichi Tanaka, prime minister of Japan, in a statement today.

"Japan has been desirous for a long time of maintaining the neutrality of America to those powers seeking to limit war or coerce aggression, but I have no objection to the Kellogg-Brind treaty."

"The treaty will mark an epoch in history. If always will stand as the portal to an era wherein it is officially proclaimed that war is unworthy of a civilized man."

New Zealand Gives Thanks.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Thanksgiving for the success of the world peace promotion efforts was given at a religious service held in the town hall today, celebrating the signing of the Kellogg-Brind treaty.

Premier Coates spoke, emphasizing that it remains for the public to see that everything possible is done to maintain the agreement signed in Paris.

DEMOCRATS PICK W. G. BIERD AS STATE TREASURER

Rail President to Handle Campaign Finances.

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of W. G. Bierd, president of the Chicago and Alton railroad, financial director of the Democratic national campaign committee for Illinois. Mr. Bierd took an active part in the convention at Houston in behalf of the nomination of Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Thomas F. Donovan, state Democratic chairman, in making the announcement, said the selection is in line with the present Democratic program of getting the big men of the country, like Raskob, Du Pont, Lehmann, and others to take the big jobs in the campaign. The selection of a Democrat to handle campaign finances will be discussed today at St. Louis, he said, where the Democratic leaders of the middle west will meet to confer with Chairman Raskob.

Leaders Go to Conference.

Those who left yesterday for St. Louis with Mr. Donovan are Martin J. O'Brien, county chairman; Timothy J. Crowe, president of the sanitary district; Mrs. George Brennan, regional vice chairman; Mrs. Julia B. Johnson, woman's chairman for Illinois, and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, member of the national committee.

A statement was issued by East C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, indicating that agricultural leaders approve of Gov. Smith's position on the farm question.

SMALL NAMES DAN JACKSON I. C. C. MEMBER

Gov. Len Small yesterday appointed Dan Jackson, Negro Republican leader of the Third ward and known as "king of gamblers" in the colored district, as a member of the Illinois commerce commission. Jackson's political ally in the Negro section, Oscar De Priest, is at present an assistant commissioner.

Jackson succeeds Edward H. Wright, colored, whose resignation was asked by Gov. Small on the assumption that Wright is a poor health. The appointment of Jackson becomes effective Sept. 1 and continues until Jan. 1, when Gov. Small goes out of office.

Jackson's political allegiance is to Mayor Thompson, who also sponsored the De Priest appointment. He was elected ward committeeman last spring in the primary which has been under investigation for months by the special grand jury, which took cognizance of gambling conditions in the locality where Jackson and De Priest rule.

Jackson will have a voice in the regulation of the rates of utility companies in his new position. His appointment is the latest in numerous changes in the personnel of the commission since Col. Frank L. Smith resigned to run for the senate and was barred because he accepted huge contributions from the companies under his jurisdiction.

According to political observers it indicates the continued alliance of Mayor Thompson and Gov. Small and perhaps strengthens the faction represented at the polls in the uprising last spring. Wright followed the leadship of Fred Lundin.

In pledging support of cooperative marketing development, he recognizes that the costs of dealing with crop surpluses must be distributed over the crop whose producers are benefited by such assistance.

His position on this major principle of farm legislation squares exactly with that of the Illinois Agricultural association.

INJURIES FATAL TO LABORER.

HARMONY IS URGED AT G. O. P. WORKERS' MEET IN GALESBURG

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 27.—(Special) Organization plans for the campaign in the Fifteenth congressional district were made at a meeting here today between the Republican state nominees and 500 party workers from Knox, Henry, Fulton, Schuyler, and Adams counties.

"Party harmony, importance of the woman vote, and the strength of the Republican platform were stressed by a dozen speakers.

Prediction that the Republicans will sweep Illinois by a majority of 50,000 was made by Senator Charles S. Deneen. He told the workers that Herbert Hoover is the farmers' friend and that he should have their votes.

"No farm leader in Illinois or the United States has done so much for agriculture as Herbert Hoover," Senator Deneen asserted, referring to his efforts on behalf of the nation's system of water transportation.

"Our comprehensive system of 3,000 miles of navigable streams in the interior is due primarily to Herbert Hoover," he declared. "Compared with farmers in other parts of the world, the American farmers are doing exceptionally well."

Hoover's victory in the recent election in decisive, the senator said, because the next President probably will name four justices of the Supreme court.

"Do you want to let the Democrats control it?" he asked.

"I GOTTA DRAG"
CLUB BOASTS
10,000 STARS

Insignia Maker Says,
How, Also Why!

On thousand members of the "I gotta drag" club are in Chicago, using as star symbols of their membership to obtain special privileges, owners of loop stores selling metal badges estimated yesterday. An estimate was borne out by a survey of parked automobiles made by a Tribune reporter and photographer.

Samuel Schreiber, 30 years old, of Merrill Avenue, vice president of the Illinois State Bank, 400 East 47th street, was discharged yesterday by J. C. Fitch when arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct. Schreiber had displayed a star when questioned by a policeman early Sunday morning. He convinced the judge that he had been inspecting real estate and stopped by the policeman and his legitimate right to be where he was.

Sale of Stars Profitable.
Offering the stars to applicants who had some sort of authorization from a city, county or sanitary district board, is a lucrative trade, it was said. Since the average price for stars is from $7 to $10, members of the "Star League" have paid over amount ranging from $70,000 to $100,000 for the emblems.

In return for their money, the stars expect to receive precedence in traffic over ordinary automobiles and who are not so fortunate in their acquaintance with petty officials.

"I should say at least 10,000 pairs of the stars have been sold in Chicago," one store owner said. "There are more automobiles bearing the stars, because it is a common practice to put a pair, each car owner putting his badge on his automobile.

More members in the club observed a tour of Chicago streets yesterday.

FEWER SPEEDERS
IN PARK, POLICE
CAPTAIN AVERS

The number of speeders in Lincoln park fell off noticeably yesterday when the ticket system of arresting autoists was discontinued, according to Capt. Charles Shaw of the park police.

Under the new system a speeder will be fined $100 an hour on the outer drive and 25 miles an hour on the inner drive is required to post a bond of from $25 to $100, depending on the rate of speed. Between 35 and 45 miles an hour the autoist must provide a $25 bond, up to 50 miles an hour the bond is $50, and beyond that $100.

"Six speeders were brought in yesterday," the captain stated. "The usual number is from 10 to 20 times that many. We don't expect to be troubled with many speeders when this new order gets noise about."

ANIMAL DEAL OF CITY CALLED ILLEGAL, VOID

Suit Seeks to Halt Payments of $70,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Prior to Aug. 13, 1922, the city received $5,000 a year for the privilege of removing its dead animals. Now the city is paying $70,000 a year to get the animals carted away.

An amended bill was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Attorneys John J. Healy and Chester E. Cleveland alleging that the $70,000 a year contract is illegal and void. The suit is on behalf of a taxpayer, Frank L. Avery, whose further identity is not disclosed.

The bill asserts that the name of the present dead animal contractor is the Midwest Trading and Securities corporation, formerly known, according to one ordinance, as the Midwest Securities and Trading corporation. Regarding this company the bill says that it is a Delaware corporation but "after diligent inquiry this taxpayer has not been able to find that the said Midwest Trading and Securities corporation has or ever had any public place of business in the said city of Chicago, and that the corporation is not listed in the directors of the Chicago Telephone company."

New Ordinance Passed.

However the city council passed an ordinance at its last regular meeting authorizing the commissioner of public works to enter into a contract with this company for five years at $70,000 a year "without advertising." The previous five year contract, made in 1922, was for $37,500 a year. The bill alleges that Mayor Thompson signed the ordinance for the present contract on July 16, and that the Midwest Trading and Securities corporation was first licensed to do business in Illinois on July 6 of this year.

It is charged that its charter does not confer the right to enter into a dead animal contract.

Another defect in the "pretended contract" according to the suit is that the contract approved by the city purported to replace the city ordinances which prescribe the method by which the contract has been awarded.

ed. It is claimed that the contract ordinance passed was not referred to any committee for consideration. Sun-dry other reasons are cited for alleging that the contract is void.

The taxpayer asks that Commissioner of Health Kegel, Acting City Controller Gosselin, Controller Designate Schmidt and City Treasurer Peterson be restrained from paying the Midwest Trading and Securities corporation any cash for removing dead animals.

The award of the contract followed the advertising of bids on Feb. 1 last. These bids were considered and finally rejected. Inquiries at the city hall yesterday brought the statement that no complaints have been received regarding the service of the Midwest Trading and Securities corporation.

Later she identified James Delano, 25 years old, who was arrested at 67th street and Rhodes avenue, as the robber.

CREDITORS PLAN ACTION AGAINST FISH FANS' CLUB

Also Suggest Accounting of Membership Funds.

Creditors of the Fish Fans club yesterday decided upon court action in an endeavor to collect $17,500 which they claim is owed them by State Representative Thomas O'Grady, president of the club, and other officials. It was also reported that a suit would be started for an accounting of money paid for memberships.

Frank D. Swanson, sales manager of Cudney & Co., meat packing company at 400 North Orleans street, one of the creditors, said several business men who had supplied the club with food-stuffs and other commodities, had been unable to collect the sums due.

Cabaret Ordered Closed.

The cabaret which has been recently operated on the boat in Belmont harbor was ordered closed last Saturday by the Lincoln park board. Rumors that irate property owners were planning to burn the boat is said to have caused the creditors to decide upon immediate action for fear that the last asset of the club would be removed.

"Before he resigned, William H. Stewart, the club's president, assured us that all debts would be paid," said Mr. Swanson. "He made such promises in the presence of Mayo Thompson, for whom the club was organized in a vote getting campaign. But now the mayor refers us to Stewart, who has been abroad all summer."

"O'Grady, the present nominal president, can't be found. When I insisted that the creditors should be given some recognition I was told to sell some memberships in the club and keep the money.

Members and Fees.

There already have been about 800 life memberships sold at $100 apiece and approximately 1,000 other memberships at $5 apiece, with an assessment of $13.32. There's a sum of over $100,000 right there, for which no one has ever accounted. We creditors would like to know where all that money went and why legitimate debts should not be paid. Attorney Hayes McKinney is handling the matter for us.

The creditors and the amounts they claim include Cudney & Co., $3,851; Atlas City Window Cleaning company, $450; Waskow Butter company, $42; New City Packing and Provision company, $1,000; Ira L. Fisher, $861, and John Irwin, $1,400.

HELD IN $20,000 BOND.
Harry Larson, 29 years old, of 2519 Dorchester avenue yesterday was ordered held to the grand jury in bonds of $20,000 by Justice Smith. Larson was arraigned on a charge of robbery.

'PARLIAMENT OF WORLD' ASSAILS U. S. BAR TO ALIEN

(Copyright: 1928 by The New York Times.)

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—The delegates to the Inter-Parliamentary union, in session here, fired a series of salvos today at the immigration restrictions of the United States. It passed a resolution to change matters to suit the eastern hemisphere.

The resolution, which signified its displeasure by withholding its vote to the resolution which received the approval of all other delegations.

Throughout the entire discussion none of the speakers seemed willing to mention the fact that he was attacking the United States, though not a single delegate had the slightest objection to the way the United States had been handling the problem.

The most significant resolution passed was that a country receiving "visitors" should give social insurance of some form to all those admitted within its gate providing unemployment, sick and other benefits such as the emigrants found in their native land.

That the bar should be let down completely was taken for granted.

The Japanese delegate taking the equality of all races as an axiom, said no reasons exist why any one should be barred from going into a land peopled by a different race.

M. Maisel of Latvia said restricted immigration was the greatest hardship on east European Jews.

Robert Schmidt of Germany said that with political and economic unity, Europe will be able to provide for all by international groups.

SHIP 500 MILES OUT ON ATLANTIC LAYING 1,300 MILES OF CABLE

(Copyright: 1928 by The New York Times.)

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—Five hundred miles out from Bay Roberts, N. F., and more than 800 miles of cable still to lay before reaching the Azores, the Dominia today reached the deepest part of the Atlantic on the route selected for the world's fastest, direct ocean cable. For one hundred miles of the route the floor is nearly three miles below the keel of the ship but it rises gradually until Horta, Azores island, is reached.

Since leaving Bay Roberts, on Aug. 22, the Dominia has been making an average speed of 7½ knots. Mile after mile the cable rolls overboard as the ship is kept on the exact course. As deep water is reached, the strain on the cable registers an increase on the dynamometer, and the brakes on the great paying-out reels are eased off to pay out cable faster. Thus allowance is made for changes in the contour of the sea floor, for the cable must be safely cushioned in the soft ooze of the bottom. Should it become suspended between two subterranean pinnacles, it would in time chafe through the insulation.

(The foregoing dispatch was sent to Ray Roberts over the cable which the Dominia is laying.)

REORGANIZATION OF TOOMBS' BANK REPORTED LIKELY

Reorganization of the Downers Grove State Bank and Trust company, which was closed after Roy C. Toombs, its head, became involved in bankruptcy, is being considered. An examination of the books neared an end last night. Definite action by the stockholders, whom it will be necessary to assess if the plan is carried out, is expected by Thursday, according to State Auditor Oscar Nelson.

Alternative plans would be the sale of the bank or the appointment of a receiver, according to Mr. Nelson.

Loans carried on the bank's books and which are regarded as worthless are not of an amount to create a large deficit, it was said. It was deemed likely that the deposits would lose through the activities of Toombs.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(UPI)—

Speculators who have been reaping huge profits on land to be placed in government irrigation projects are being prevented from buying land values on new reclamation districts by the bureau of reclamation, the interior department announced today.

Alternative plans would be the sale of the bank or the appointment of a receiver, according to Mr. Nelson.

Loans carried on the bank's books and which are regarded as worthless are not of an amount to create a large deficit, it was said. It was deemed likely that the deposits would lose through the activities of Toombs.

Chicago public schools will be opened on Tuesday, Sept. 4, it was announced yesterday by Supt. William J. Bogan. "Our program of schools has been completed, all teachers have been assigned to their posts, and preparations, with a few minor exceptions, are ready for the opening of classes," Mr. Bogan stated. "In spite of the opening of a number of new schools, there will not be enough seats to go around." Mr. Bogan yesterday returned from Mackinac Island, where he spent a short vacation. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bogan and their daughter, Marcella.

HOOVER TO BID FOR NEW YORK IN SPEECH SOON

May Cover Liquor Question in Address.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY. (Chicago Tribune Free Service) Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—[Special]—Herbert Hoover will open permanent headquarters tomorrow or next day in a house on R street, in the rear of his own home at 2300 S street. This will be the base from now on of his campaign for the presidency and here will be taken all the problems of personnel, strategy and organization of the campaign.

Mr. Hoover's first attention is to be given to the campaign in New York. While he thinks he can be elected even if he loses this state, he is not going to give it up. He will deliver an address in New York City, in the early future. One question is whether he can take on the question of prohibition there and develop the thesis that if the people wish modification of the Eighteenth act, they can get it just as quickly and easily under Hoover as they could under Smith. Any possibility of amendment of the constitution is years ahead, under any President.

Confers With Hillis.

He had Daniel E. Pomeroy of New Jersey, vice chairman of the national committee, and Charles D. Hillis, national committeeman from New York, luncheon today.

They told him that much must be done in New York. Here is one state that even the Republican leaders are not talking so reassuringly about. And Mr. Hoover knows that if New York goes against him that there are a number of other states that would be in the same in all probability. If Smith is strong enough to take New York, he may take New Jersey, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts.

Hoover cut the last strings with the department of commerce today when he introduced the new secretary, William F. Kopp. After the formalities, he turned over to the new chief and turned over to the new home to become political seer and prophet. He continued to be silent about it all. He will resume press conferences in a day or two, as soon as he is established in his new office.

To Visit Midwest.

He will set up a staff there and re-

HOME GIRL FOUND EASIEST VICTIM OF MORAL TRAPS

Salvation Army Survey Results Revealed.

That the home girl is confronted by many moral hazards as the working girl is, was the finding acceptable to them in the results of a survey of women's social work carried on by the Salvation Army. The results were made public yesterday by Lieut. Col. Annie J. Cowden, who is in charge of the organization's work in the central territory.

Of the women in homes under the supervision of the institutions maintained by the Salvation Army the greater percentage come directly from the shelter of the home or home influence. From the limited scope of the work these conclusions were made:

1. The dangerous age is 18.

2. The home itself is in many cases fraught with the same moral hazards as are given by the revelation that more home girls, school girls and domestic servants were found to have given birth to illegitimate children than the members of any other class.

Study Covers Half Year.

The study, which covered a six months' period, was based on the record of the occupations, ages, and number of girls and women admitted during that time to Middle West Salvation Army home and maternity hospitals. These are maintained for the care of unwed mothers, and their children are to be prevented from being adopted or becoming wards of the state.

The mothers are taught useful occupations at the various institutions and later employment is secured for them.

"Domestic servants especially are subjected to greater moral hazards since their opportunity for wholesome social contacts usually is quite circumscribed, compelling them to an indiscriminate selection of chance associates. This is a situation that employers might help remedy."

18 at 14, 25 at 15, 56 at 16, 72 at 17, 109 at 18, 87 at 19, 74 at 20, 39 at 21, 48 at 22, 21 at 23, 20 at 24, 24 at 25, 11 at 26, 9 at 27, and 1 at 28.

Occupations of Girls.

The report showed these figures regarding the different occupations: Two cooks, three beauty parlor assistants, three electrical operators, four seamstresses, four college girls, five laundry girls, nine teachers, 11 nurses, 12 telephone operators, 22 clerks, 35 office workers, 45 factory girls, 61 waitresses, 110 schoolgirls, 99 home girls, and 214 maids and other domestics.

The figures from this survey do not pretend to be representative of any general condition nor typical of the morality of any one group," Col. Cowden stated yesterday. "However, it is true that the teaching of sex hygiene to immature minds, idleness and loneliness are quite often the causes which predispose a young girl to her downfall."

"Domestic servants especially are subjected to greater moral hazards since their opportunity for wholesome social contacts usually is quite circumscribed, compelling them to an indiscriminate selection of chance associates. This is a situation that employers might help remedy."

RADICALS TRYING TO UNDO HARM THEY DID HOOVER

North Dakota Seething with Discontent.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Dickinson, N. D., Aug. 27.—[Special.] For a dozen years North Dakota has been the storm center of radicalism in the northwest wheat states and its penchant for insurgency makes it today one of the prime enigmas among the doubtful states as between Hoover and Smith.

Farm relief here has been the subject of agitation in more than a decade of politics. This year the non-partisan leaders are working with the regular Republicans in a pact on the national ticket only. Senators Lynn Frazier and Gerald Nye have come out for Hoover. There is a joint management of the Hoover-Curtis campaign headed by Fred Graham, national committeeman, a leaguer, and A. W. Fowler, of the regulars, who in this state still are known as the independent voters' association.

There's Fly in Honey.

It is the first harmony of the sort since the league grabbed the state ten years or so ago. But the fly in the honey, is a doubt whether the league mark and file will trail along with any degree of unanimity. Republicans look for a division in league ranks, part touting with Smith and part with Hoover. The chief source of trouble is that the things Frazier, Nye and Graham now are saying and the things they were saying two months ago don't click. This is a state where pre-convention talk was of an extreme bitterness.

One of the favorite pastimes of the league leaders has been the lambasting of the Coolidge administration. They were telling their flocks that Hoover fixed the price of wheat during the war, and held the farmer down to 12.5¢ a bushel as a maximum price when all congress and the Wilson administration intended was to make this a minimum price. This idea is widespread in the wheat states and it was peddled assiduously during the pre-convention campaigning by the Mc-Nary-Haagenites and corn belt re-volters.

Require Lot of Talk. Now Frazier and Nye are in the position of covering up, and the politicians say it will require a lot of talk to unsay the things that have been said.

Four years ago Frazier and Nye could go to La Follette. This time they can not go to Norris. Frazier is up for reelection. In the primaries he beat Ex-Governor R. A. Nesot by 20,000.

Frazier is coming out for Hoover, said, in effect, that, as between a Tammany Democrat and Hoover, he was bound to be regular. This indicates the line the league leaders may take in their campaigning for Hoover. Wetness and the Tammany farmer are items to be emphasized. How far will go in North Dakota is being debated by the politicians.

Drys in Close Race.

There has been an obvious change in prohibition politics. This was evinced in June when the prohibition section in the state constitution, which has been there forty years, narrowly escaped being chucked out of the wind-

ers. As to Mc-Nary-Haagen, the idea of surplus control has its origin in North Dakota more than in any other state.

The non-partisan league, which captured control of the state government and the Republican organization and turned the state for years into a wild experiment station of socialism, had its origin as an agrarian movement to control marketing. State four mill and elevators were to accomplish wonders, but all they gave the state was a load of debt.

Nine years ago, out here the Democrats are countering with remarks that Hoover's nomination was made through eastern nomination at Kansas City, and that the east showed its regards for the west by turning down the farm group's minority farm plank.

THE STEPCHILD OF THE FATHER OF WATERS.

An army engineer who studied the project of deepening the Mississippi river from St. Louis to St. Paul to a minimum of nine feet has reported against it. At present there is a six foot channel. The engineer is in favor of leaving matters as they are, though he admits that there must be some loss if barge equipment which can reach Pittsburgh and St. Louis cannot also reach the docks in St. Paul.

Minneapolis, St. Paul, Keokuk, La Crosse, and other ports on the upper Mississippi ought not to let the matter rest with this report. Other experts may have different opinions. There are numerous advantages to be expected from deepening the upper channel, not the least of which is the improvement which should result in the conditions of navigation in the lower river in times of drought.

The government has been at great expense to establish a nine foot channel in the Ohio to Pittsburgh. The government has been losing money on the waterway and the large line to Birmingham, Ala. The government has lost heavily on many of the reclamation projects. The business men of Minneapolis and St. Paul need no hesitancy in continuing their campaign for the full development of their river's potentialities. Their claims to government support are worth as much consideration as those of any other section of the country.

A tradition has arisen in this country that it is proper for the government to sink money in far-western projects which offer scant probability of paying for themselves; and it is also proper to sink money in a Muscle Shoals for the south and navy yards at every inlet along the coast. In contrast, it is customary to frown upon proposed improvements in the heart of the country, near the center of population, of agriculture and of industry.

The Mississippi system of waterways will not serve the nation as it can until the same equipment can be employed on all its sections and all its branches, just as a railroad system is not likely to prove profitable if an important section of it is narrow gauge. As long as the Mississippi system is viewed as a series of disconnected projects serving particular localities and industries, as the Ohio river serves Pittsburgh and the Warrior serves the Birmingham steel mills, the probability is that barges will lack return cargoes. Without return cargoes, profitable operation is rendered extremely difficult. A vast producing and consuming area is served by the upper Mississippi. The report of one army engineer is not and ought not to be considered the last word on a question of such great national importance.

AMERICAN TEMPERANCE.

William Allen White of Kansas always finds Paris delightful. Pleasant moments of his life have been there. He is living there over now, exploring good things to eat and, as he says, when he wants a little drink, taking one. Water is his preferred beverage, but with the charm of Paris possessing him he is a temperate man at peace with other people's habits. It is a smiling, good natured world in Paris, but not in Kansas.

Mr. White says that it would take the American people ten thousand years to learn the moderation of the French and therefore be entitled to their freedom. He says Americans, British, and Scandinavians cannot be trusted. They will not make an enjoyable, harmless use of wine at their tables, but will fill themselves full of whisky and hard liquor, endangering the decorum and security of the community.

Early Americans were rum and whisky drinkers for several reasons. In the early colonies there was a polite use of wines supplanting strong drink as soon as the people of wealth increased in numbers and were able to afford them in London to satisfy their taste. That was true of Washington and the other Virginia aristocrats. It was true of many of the older and settled communities.

The pioneer proceeded on his way with whisky. It was the drink he could transport and the drink he was able first to make, as soon as he had cleared land and raised corn. Jackson's armies could travel on whisky and parched corn. The hardships of the rough life of the advancing frontier indured the frontiersmen against some of the consequences of use of potent liquor. There was neither time nor inclination for the amenities. The people did not make wine. Whisky was cheap. These conditions prevailed in Lincoln's time in the west, when the frontier had gone on towards the Pacific coast.

Increasing German immigration brought beer into greater use. It is not true that whisky drives out the less potent drink. America began to grow grapes and make wine. Drunkenness, which had been forgiven distinguished men of the colonies and the early republic, came under the ban of society. A man who misbehaved because intoxicated was shamed, and if he persisted in his habits he was avoided. It was a disgrace to offend the orderly judgment of people, and the great masses of the American people, free as they were to govern their own habits, were temperate. The use of wine and beer was increasing and the use of whisky proportionately was decreasing.

This will not, for a prohibitionist, be satisfactory, even if he accepts it as probably true, but no reasonable person will say that the American people had revealed themselves as a race of drunkards. The majority, increasing in numbers year by year, were proving themselves to be entirely incompetent to make their own decisions and to govern their own habits. They were not the rowdies of the human race.

THE STAR RACKET.

The star racket and courtesy card nuisance have been intended to promote disorder either by making major crime the easier of accomplishment, by granting immunity from the operation of certain laws or by creating a class of petty but obnoxious privilege. In its least serious fashion this has been a cheap way of getting votes from a class of citizens who feel that they are the better men if they can violate traffic regulations, cheat on the turns, and the red lights, ignore the parking regulations and overbear a policeman if he happens along in a mood to do his duty.

This may be merely a common nuisance and a high gratification, but the racket reaches into more serious things. It is a part of the arrangement between certain politics and certain criminals by which the latter are given greater privileges for their acts of violence and more ease for their getaway. It permits gunmen to impersonate officers, to tote guns with a semblance of authority which a court may recognize, and to beat the speed regulations. There may be some reputable citizens whose desire for small privileges, whose sense of vanity or insistence on having their own way at all times have made them want a star or a card, something to stick on the car or carry about with them, but they will have to acknowledge that this has put them in some company which the family silver would not be safe.

Their distinction is hardly that of the minor Chicago nobility. The decorations given out by Chicago politics merely raise the natural question whether the possessor is a prominent egg man or a big yeggman. Until there has been complete identification of a citizen sporting one of the stars, badges, cards or other emblems of official regard, the public has no way of knowing what is his classification. He may be one thing or the other. It may not be imprudent to proceed with no more than a thought for his probable traffic errors, or it may be wise immediately to climb a tree or run to cover.

The starred person might do no more than make a pedestrian jump ten feet for safety on the curb, or he might bump him off by mistake, thinking he was a precinct captain or a beer peddler in wrong. It is not a certainty that the person with a star has a police record, is under sentence to the penitentiary or is wanted by the grand jury. He may be a properly authorized officer of the law. He may be only a pompous dumbbell. He may only want to break the regulations intended for the general order of the community and the comfort and convenience of the undecorated citizens. Or he may be a first class crook, veteran pinupper or experienced machine gunner. You can't tell who they are until you look them up, possibly in Who's Who or, otherwise, in the Criminal court record or on the police blotter.

TEXAS RETIRES MAYFIELD AND BLANTON.

The run off in the Democratic primaries in Texas has defeated Senator Earle B. Mayfield and has cost Tom Blanton his seat in the house of representatives. Congressman Tom Connally has the nomination for Mayfield's seat. Mr. Blanton has been regarded as one of the several if not numerous afflictions of congress and Mr. Mayfield has been accepted as the senatorial symbol of the undesirable Klux. A number of his associates in the senate have danced when the Klux pulled wires, but Mr. Mayfield has been a real Klener in the Klongress and even if he did not wear the pillow case and sheet he did for a time suggest that the wizards were not altogether crazy when they thought they could capture the government of the United States.

Instead of going from bad to worse in general Texas may be going from worse to better. The Fugitives have had their day and if Mayfield and Blanton are missed it will be only with a sense of relief. Upon this recent record Texas cannot be regarded as one of the most muddled states in the union.

It is getting rid of some of its political aberrations and government eccentricities. Alabama in turn when its time comes, may even get rid of Senator Tom Heflin.

Editorial of the Day

NO DISCARDING OUR DEFENSES.

[Grand Rapids Herald.]

The United States has not yet abandoned its navy or muster out its army even though, in common with thirteen other nations, it undertakes an effort to outlaw war. That message is the important feature of the address which President Coolidge delivered to the Wisconsin state convention of the American Legion. It is important because critics of the Kellogg multilateral treaty plan have pretended to see in its accomplishment an invitation to disintegration of the army and navy. Such interpretation of the Kellogg plan's potentialities has been unreasonable from the first. The agreements by which fourteen nations jointly renounce war as an instrument of national policy are in the nature of an experiment. Nobody knows to what extent they will affect the future of the world. Anybody who suggested that the United States curtail its navy and reduce its army merely because other nations have joined with us in thus condemning recourse to war would be hoodwinked as shallow-brained. Yet the President did well to give official assurance that there is to be no abandonment of our "obligation" to maintain adequate national defense on sea and land. The back fire of partisan critics thus is silenced.

The pioneer proceeded on his way with whisky. It was the drink he could transport and the drink he was able first to make, as soon as he had cleared land and raised corn. Jackson's armies could travel on whisky and parched corn. The hardships of the rough life of the advancing frontier indured the frontiersmen against some of the consequences of use of potent liquor. Says Church Problem Is Far from Settled.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—In an interview with members of the American press today, Miguel de la Mora, bishop of the Diocese of Mexico, said that a settlement of the church question in Mexico had not been shelved, as was currently believed, but was still unsettled.

Bishop de la Mora said that two archbishops and eleven bishops out of a total of thirty-three prelates, all supposed to be in exile, are in hiding in Mexico helping to direct the affairs of the church here.

Bishop de la Mora came to the meeting place secretly and departed as secretly.

Pray for Peace.

Bishop de la Mora pleaded for an honest attempt by Mexico to meet the church half way and honest enforcement of religious laws as in the United States and other Saxon countries.

Such a basis, he assured, the church would fulfill its functions in Mexico as faithfully and loyally as in other countries. Today, Bishop de la Mora said the church is carrying on under the greatest difficulty.

"Priests are administering sacraments of the church in caves, houses and private homes and secret places, often at night and not infrequently after midnight," he said. "Priests have continued in hiding, yet the church carries on and intends to carry on."

Denies Clergy in Arms.

Speaking of military movement by Catholics against the Mexican government, Bishop de la Mora said that the Catholic church as an organization had nothing to do with it.

"We are trying to save Mexico," he said, "it is altogether the affair of the people. If some priests have taken part in armed bands, it is purely a matter of conscience with them and without order by the church organization or societies."

Speaking of Archbishop Orozco Jimenez, the most picturesque figure in the Mexican Catholic church today, and known as the "fighting bishop," Bishop de la Mora said: "It is not true that the archbishop was in arms and had rebels at his disposal. He is a present church trouble. He stays a refugee in the hills because he cannot live in the open. He never aided rebels nor contributed to their work. No member of the Catholic episcopate is with the rebels or aiding them."

Would Appeal to Congress.

Bishop de la Mora expressed the belief that the Catholic church should present a petition to the Congress which meets on Sept. 1, so that there are many new members who may be expected to understand the seriousness of the Catholic question and be disposed to help reach a settlement.

"We who uphold the Catholic banner are always in danger," he said. "I am a hideout. We all have to be in hiding. We are sheltered one night at one place, another night at another. I have been in five different houses in three days, and this is a common story. But such conditions breed religious fervor, and persecution awakens faith. The spirit of religion is steadily growing through

DECIDE TO BASE RADIO LICENSES ON POPULATION

Federal Commission Has Hit Upon Plan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(Special)—Indication that the federal radio commission has at last arrived upon a plan of regulation for distributing licenses, power and wave lengths in accordance with the recently enacted amendment requiring distribution among the five radio zones in proportion to population was given today in a statement by Louis G. Caldwell, Chicago attorney and general counsel for the commission.

In his statement, Mr. Caldwell took issue with the contention of Stephen B. Davis, former collector of the department of commerce, that the so-called equitable distribution amendment was a definite instruction to the commission to drastically reduce the number of broadcasting stations and that the commission has carefully avoided disputes with broadcasters.

"The only instruction given to the commission was that it should be guided by the test of 'public interest, convenience or necessity,'" argued Mr. Caldwell. "And if the application of this test leads to retaining most or all of the present stations—with a redistribution as to frequency, power and hours of operation—then the commission has fulfilled its duty."

"It is no simple matter to tell a broadcaster that he must give up his broadcasting license," said Mr. Caldwell. "While I believe the commission has wide powers in this respect, it must be guided by justice and equity. If, as engineers say, the time is approaching when synchronization will permit a greater duplication of stations operating simultaneously on the same channel, then it is not wise to eliminate a station if it can be accommodated without injury to conditions of radio reception."

The broadcasting permit of one station—KFAQ, at St. Louis, Mo., was revoked, and the licenses of ten others were renewed for 30 day periods. Among the latter were stations KWKC at Kansas City, KICK at Red Oak, Ia., and KDLR at Devil's Lake, N. D.

UNABLE TO FIND BODY OF POWER, YACHT VICTIM

Efforts to recover the body of Johnstone Power, 21 years old, Chicago Sea Scout and member of the Borden-Field museum arctic expedition of last year, who fell from the yacht Phantom II, Sunday, were still upavailing last night. The accident occurred when the young man attempted to toss a pail of water over the rail while the yacht was cruising seven miles off Mackinac Island.

Thorne Donnelly, of the Phantoms II, of which young Power was captain, was at the wheel at the time the youth went into the water. The body never came to the surface after the plunge. It was erroneously reported on Sunday that the yacht was the property of Reuben H. Donnelly, millionaire printer. Thorne Donnelly, son of Johnstone's son.

John W. Matthews, 16 years old, 126 Kingston avenue, River Forest, was drowned yesterday when he was swimming with his wife and son in Beverly lake, near Dundee, Ill. The body was recovered by companions.

Elmer Praises Haydn Quartet as Radio Treat

Playing by W-G-N Artists
Is Called Ideal.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

"Papa" Joseph Haydn, who delighted in ministering musically to the happiness of others, would have been a happier Haydn could he have heard his string quartet, opus 64, No. 10, being played over on the air as played by the W-G-N string quartet during the station's 9:30 to 10 chamber music program.

Haydn's string quartets seem to be peculiarly suitable for radio transmission. Every one I ever heard was singularly bounding, graceful, cheerful, and, musically transparent. Most important of all, perhaps, is that they are unaccustomed to synchronization. And being sure, sure, sure, written for music's sake rather than to portray some obscure music, they are easy to grasp on first hearing.

The effectiveness of the broadcast was enhanced by the deft execution by the W-G-N string quartet. The time was perfect, and the intonation seemed to be ideal. One rather unusual effect was that the characteristic drone-note tone which is too commonly prominent in string quartet playing was totally absent.

When it was announced that the Family Party program from New York, through W-G-N, 830 to 9, would be a native Hawaiian program, it looked as though we would have a chance to enjoy the lowdown on brat-tacks, whatever else native Hawaiian music is. Only a few samples of American versions of Hawaiian music were given. The program turned out to be a radio-drama depicting the discovery of the Hawaiian Islands 150 years ago by Capt. James Cook. And it was all so spooky, dramatic, and impressive that we will not forget this important historical incident.

The performances of "Cameraria Rustica," from New York, through WMAQ, 8 to 9, was refreshingly suggestive of the atmosphere that goes with grand opera—full dress suits, evening gowns, diamonds, etc., and all its other trappings.

Stopping Treatment Too Soon Is Dangerous to sufferers from "Social" Diseases

THOUSANDS of sufferers from "Social" Diseases are facing the most serious consequences imaginable because they discontinued treatment too soon. Not realizing that it takes time to cure a "Social" Disease, they made the mistake of stopping treatment as soon as the early symptoms had disappeared.

Therein lies one of the greatest dangers of "Social" Diseases. The early symptoms may disappear, so far as the patient himself can recognize, and with the disappearance of those symptoms he all too often thinks himself cured.

The disappearance of symptoms does not necessarily mean that all the germs have been killed. Hence to stop treatment too soon is to run the risk that months or years later the disease may reappear, perhaps in a form which is much more destructive and much more difficult to cure. Insanity, blindness, paralysis, apoplexy, epilepsy, heart disease, kidney trouble and crippling rheumatism are only a few of the dangerous consequences of uncured "Social" Diseases.

Likewise, many of the still-born, deformed and feeble-minded babies... many of the cases of infantile blindness... many of the pelvic operations on married women... can be traced directly to "Social" Diseases which never had been cured.

Thus, in addition to being in grave danger himself, the uncured victim of a "Social" Disease is a source of danger to his loved ones. Not only may he infect his wife and children, but as time goes on he may develop a disabling affliction which will make it impossible for him to provide for them any longer.

If any reader of this advertisement ever had a "Social" Disease and stopped treatment before being pronounced cured, he is urged to consult a reliable physician or come to the Public Health Institute. An examination will show whether or not he still has the disease, and if he has he should immediately resume treatment and continue it until the attending physician pronounces him cured.

Organized NOT FOR PROFIT, the examination and treatment fees of the Public Health Institute are so very low that any one can afford them. When protection from "Social" Diseases can be had economically, privately and conveniently, don't run the risk of wrecking your health and that of your wife and children.

The OCEAN LINER that went UP THE CREEK!

—and MISSED the big new river of prosperity!

THIS is not a fable . . . it is a picture of a big advertising appropriation.

Spending millions to navigate that interesting stream that all the best people live on . . . missing the big new river that is flooding the land with prosperity.

We speak of the great wage-earning group . . . the millions of people who today have more money to spend than ever before . . . who form the real backbone of America's prosperity . . . and who now buy 55% of all retail merchandise sold in this country.

Times Have Changed

Advertisers whose fortunes rest on volume sales must get this new picture of wealth distribution in America . . . if 1929 quotas are to be met . . . if new and firm foundations are to be laid for leadership through future years.

Trace the change, the new trend of wealth, the ever-broadening flow of dollars to the masses. For instance——today, the average wage-earner's family enjoys the same living it had in 1920 or 60% of present income.

—since 1914, the cost of living has risen 175% . . . union wages have risen 260%.

—taking 100 as a basis of wages and prices in July 1924, in July 1927 we find wages up to 107, prices at 98.

—the average wage-earner's family today can devote 40% of its income to investment, automobiles, radios, to the 101 luxuries that add zest to the business of living.

And this tremendous group now comprises 65.8% of the families in America!

The Only Magazine They Read

True Story is the favorite magazine of these prosperous, thrifty people. In fact it is practically the only magazine they read, the only one specifically edited for them.

There are 2,200,000 True Story families . . . and an advertisement in the five leading women's magazines would reach only 18% of them.

They have a combined annual buying power of over 5 billion dollars. They spend more than 2 billion dollars for food alone!

TRUE STORY

THE ONLY MAGAZINE THEY READ

A third of True Story families own their own homes. Half of them own cars. The average age of True Story readers is 30.

Most Responsive of All to Advertising

A great new market for national advertisers! A market of progressive and prospering young people, eager for better homes, better food, better clothes, better ways of living—and able to buy!

The Spear Furniture Company sells $40 to $60 items at 1-3 less cost in True Story.

Kalamazoo Stoves find True Story readers "very responsive" at $85 per sale.

A recent advertisement of the Carnation Milk Company drew 17,000 inquiries, at the lowest cost this company has ever known.

Food advertisers such as Fleischmann, Jell-O, Post's Bran Flakes, Mazola, Borden and Seald-Sweet are winning True Story readers from the casual purchase of private brands.

In the toilet goods field, Lux Toilet Soap and Lux Flakes found this market eager for better ways of working and washing . . . Pond's Creams, Squibb and Cutex found enthusiastic reception.

These are the people who dwell along America's great new river of prosperity . . . the people who today offer by far the richest and readiest market for the leading products of the nation.

Complete facts and figures are available in a handsome new book entitled "The New Family Market." Write for it on your letterhead today. True Story, 1930 Broadway, New York City.

CHICAGO GIVES
ITS TRACK QUEEN
ROYAL WELCOME

Betty Robinson Back
from Olympics.

By KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

They made it "Hall, the Conquering Heroine," yesterday when Elizabeth Robinson, who left here a Riverdale school girl, came back to Chicago an Olympic champion.

They lined the Union station with brass bands, flowers, friends and cheers for the slim, trim lassie whose flying feet carried her from obscurity to fame in the space of four months. For Betty, who ran her first race just sixteen weeks ago, showed her heels to the fleetest of Europe's girl runners, and brought the American colors in first in the 100 meter race at Amsterdam.

Sheds Tears of Joy.

But if Chicago gave it all out of her feet, it gave a great boisterous, enthusiastic welcome. She was a quiver with excitement and joy when she stepped down from the Broadway Limited with her parents, and she was frankly shedding tears at the crowd of friends and fans surged forward to welcome her and her team.

Eight girls wearing the insignia of the Illinois Women's Athletic club, of which Betty represented in the Olympic games, were among the first to greet her. All are her teammates on the club's track team. Close behind came her chums and classmates of Thornton Township High school, among whom she gushed C. C. Price, the athletic instructor who first discovered her possibilities as a runner. Mayor Frank Bruggeman of Harvey was there, and William Saltiel, Chicago city attorney, represented Chicago's mayor.

Welcome at City Hall.

There was a hurried trip to the city hall, where Louis Golan, chairman of the mayor's reception committee, formally welcomed her,ушing her to the mayor's room, where William Hale Thompson added her own congratulations, and Betty, who left for Europe a sweet sixteen and came back a sparkling seventeen, having experienced a birthday on the return trip, worked more than ever.

Then she was taken to the Illinois Women's Athletic club for a belated breakfast, and more showers of congratulations. More concrete evidence of their pride and appreciation was apparent when Mrs. Bebbie Bragg Mason, president, presented her with a life membership in the club and a jeweled club pin.

Earlier in her welcome, a diamond studded wrist watch had been slipped on Betty's wrist, a token of the approval of her schoolmates at the Thornton Township High school. Before this went the Morel Gift.

Next on the list was a tiny gold track shoe from her teammates at the athletic club. A slender gold chain fastened it around her throat. Shortly thereafter a diamond ring was added to the wrist watch, pin, and the pendant—the gift of proud relatives.

But the chief object of Betty's interest is the slick new roadster her parents purchased for her as a compensation birthday gift. O. J. Price, manager of the present. She did not touch a glimpse of it until last night.

"O, it's wonderful!" she gasped as she poised for a few moments at the edge of the pool on the seventeenth floor of the club while the crowd still gazed about her. "It's just wonderful—but I'm really much more nervous today, coming home, than I was on the day of the race. Even since I got to New York I've been shaky about it—and just crazy to get here."

Is Guest at Reception.

"And just to think, all happened so quickly. You know, Mr. Price is no more a schmuck than I am. He thinks I'm really pretty good, so he started training me. Then I won at the Chicago Riding club races and right away the club here asked me to join the track team—and here I am."

There she was, indeed—but not for long. The reception committee was perpetually at her elbow, steering her to the next feature of the day's program—in this case the Edgewater Beach Athletic club on Sheridan road. There the reception was held in her honor and a silver coffee service presented to her.

After that she was free to discard the close little white felt hat, the white coat with the red, white and blue shield over her heart, the straight white dress, and the white hose and pumps that constituted her uniform, and to take a refreshing dip in the water.

Last night she was the guest of honor at a dinner at the Hotel Chicago, hotel given by the Central A. A. U., where another trophy was presented to be added to her collection.

Referring to the track at Amsterdam, Fred Steers, manager of the Women's Olympic track team, said: "When all present had finished examining Betty, she arose and repeated for the umpteen-sixth time: 'I'm certainly very happy and proud of you all."

Today the celebration will be complete, with Harvey as the locale, and the piece de resistance,

BOBBY LOWERS COURSE RECORD AGAIN WITH 67

Goes Around 3 Times in 10 Under Par.

Bobby Jones, captain of the American Walker cup team, which, on Thursday and Friday, will defend its record of four consecutive victories against a British invasion, yesterday played two rounds over the Chicago Golf club course, one of the international meeting, in 135 strokes, 7 shots under par. His morning's 35—31—47 bettered the course record he established Sunday and his afternoon's 36—32—61 equaled it.

The work of the national amateur champion left little room for improvement. He was in trouble nowhere along the route. His morning record round was almost a 66, as his 80 yard approach shot at the seventeenth struck the pin and dropped two inches short of an eagle two.

Three Rounds—203 Strokes.

His Sunday's 88 slipped a stroke off the record that Jack Drucker, Chicago golf pro, set year ago. His three rounds, played within a time space of 27.7, were 100% under par strokes, ten less than par for the 4,700 yard course. They constitute one of the finest three rounds ever recorded.

Statistical recapitulation of Jones' cards shows thirteen birdies, seventeen pars and six holes one stroke over par for the twin rounds. On the morning circuit he shot seven birdies and was over par three times for his 67.

Starts with Birdie.

Starting out with a birdie four on the 454 yard first, where his spoon shot was just over the edge of the green, he encountered slight mishaps at the next two holes. At the second he hooked his drive into a bunker, while at the third he sliced off the tail of an approach bunker. Birdies dropped in at the fourth and fifth, but at the eighth he had three putts. He was out in 36, even par.

For the third this afternoon, thus winning the women's national championship for the fifth time.

As a placement shot past the Jacobs girl for the match and championship point after about 30 minutes of play, she rushed up to the net, her moist white costume sticking clammy to her muscular back, and grasped the other. Helen's hand for a quick squeeze, faintly suggesting that night have been a smile, played a short engagement on Miss Jacobs' stern countenance, indicating that, traditions to the contrary notwithstanding, she could have thought of more delightful pleasure than losing.

The photographers, who clattered down onto the court lugging movie machines and still boxes to make pictures of Miss Wills, received the champion cup with a traditional kiss. Owing to long stemmed roses nodding in it, were much more agitated than she was.

As a placement shot past the Jacobs girl for the match and championship point after about 30 minutes of play, she rushed up to the net, her moist white costume sticking clammy to her muscular back, and grasped the other. Helen's hand for a quick squeeze, faintly suggesting that night have been a smile, played a short engagement on Miss Jacobs' stern countenance, indicating that, traditions to the contrary notwithstanding, she could have thought of more delightful pleasure than losing.

The photographers, who clattered down onto the court lugging movie machines and still boxes to make pictures of Miss Wills, received the champion cup with a traditional kiss. Owing to long stemmed roses nodding in it, were much more agitated than she was.

SOCIETY GATHERS AT ARLINGTON FOR OPENING PROGRAM

Gracious Gift Is Victor in Inaugural Handicap.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Clyde Van Dusen and Gracious Gift, the former from Kentucky, and the latter from Chicago, rolled home to impressive victories in the two feature events at Arlington Park's late summer turf opening yesterday afternoon.

Gracious Gift won the inaugural handicap and Clyde Van Dusen the Futurity Trial purse. Both scored impressively in the six furlongs.

JOHN R. THOMPSON JR. said: "For both races was extremely hard and each overhauled heavily backed fast and to score their triumphs."

The Arlington opening was highly successful and attracted a good Monday crowd of about 9,000. Under the new ownership a remarkable air of confidence prevailed throughout the grounds. Mai, Frederic McLaughlin, John R. Thompson Jr., Ralph Hines, Val Crane, Lawrence Armour, and numerous others among the owners of the beautiful track took an active part in the opening day ceremonies.

Society Flocks to Track.

There was a generous outpouring from the society ranks along the North Shore and those who like to back the horses were ready to assist in the affairs of the pari-mutuel department, when they found a notice printed in large letters on the program that the total proceeds of the sales of mutuel tickets and the prices paid at Arlington are being supervised and verified by the Angus Stevens firm of accountants.

Angus Stevens, president of Angus, explained this is in line with their policy to show the public exactly what is going on in all departments of the American National Jockey club. Arlington is the first track in Illinois to adopt this plan and it means with immediate popularity.

Gracious, Gift, son of Whiskerbroom II, and a star around New York during this season, found his racing last for the first time on a Chicago track, when he carried the silks of H. G. Goeltz Jr. of Chicago, to triumph in the Inaugural handicap.

La Dentelle Sets Early Pace.

It was Ald. Coughlin's La Dentelle, at 150 to 1 in the betting which made the press under the field hit the turn home. She had been closely attended by Cayuga.

At the head of the stretch, Jockey E. Warden, who seldom rides winners, let Gracious Gift have his head. The Goeltz color bearer came on the outside, flew past one horse after another until he was well in front. Warden could for more speed and Gracious Gift did. He was three lengths in front and going strong as the struggle ended. Rurik got up to take second money and Cayuga beat La Dentelle out of the show in the last strides.

The once mighty Voltar fell by the wayside when Clyde Van Dusen, a son of Man o' War, and trained by his namesake, the mighty little horseman, Clyde Van Dusen, galloped home the winner of two lengths over the year old race. Voltar had no excuse to offer for he was away in fairly good position, and by the time they hit the lower bend had worked his way into a contending position.

Voltar Saves Third Place.

But Clyde Van Dusen which had taken a good early lead, was still sprinting along in front and he gave no indication of wanting to come back and give Voltar a chance. Clyde Van Dusen was simply running too fast for Voltar, and also for Double Heart which was in second place. He continued to outpace his home, and was going fastest of all as he went flitting past the finish line two lengths in front of Double Heart, with Voltar five lengths on back and doing the best he could to save third money.

BUSINESS TURNED APPREHENSIVE BY CREDIT TENSION

BY O. A. MATHER.

The specter of stiff money rates confronted both speculators and business men yesterday. A return of call money to 8 per cent and predictions of even higher rates put a damper on the stock market. But more important from the point of view of trade and industry was the fact that time money held firm at 5% per cent.

The New York banks called in between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 of stock market loans, acting both for themselves and their country correspondent banks. These withdrawals were made in preparation for the approaching month end demand for credit for commercial purposes. The Labor day holiday, which this year follows the month end closely, creates an additional demand for funds.

Stringency to Continue.

There is no doubt the country's banks will make every effort to meet the credit needs of trade and industry. But even abundant credit at 7% per cent affords the radio comfort to business men. The National Trust company, New York, pointed out that cheap money has been the chief stimulus of business activity in recent years, and, conversely, tight money rates may disturb the general situation.

The credit situation continues sound, but high rates may be expected to continue for weeks, according to the Brookline Economic service. Rates are holding at a high level for both commercial and speculative purposes, although the tendency is to normalize speculation and assist business. One effect, however, has been to reduce contemplated building construction.

Western Railroads Prosper.

Another favorable budget of railroad earnings for July appeared yesterday, with the western lines making a particularly good showing as the result of good crops. The first 32 roads to report had aggregate net operating income of $10,362,000, marking an increase of 12.7 per cent over July, 1927. Gross revenues totaled $252,988,000, a gain of 1.1 per cent.

The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific made the most striking showing, with net income of $1,484,000, compared with $1,364,000 in July, 1927. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe had net income of $6,161,024, compared with $4,667,362; Chicago and North Western, $2,584,221, against $1,981,003; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, $2,582,228, against $1,838,10; Great Northern, $2,607,145, against $2,400,288; Texas and Pacific, $872,743, against $330,848.

The Biggest Pay Roll in Detroit's History!

Detroit's Industries Set New Employment Record

According to the Employers' Association, which represents two-thirds of Detroit's total industrial man power, the number employed by its membership for the week ending August 14th was 280,099, an increase of 75,090 over the corresponding week of a year ago—or

36.6%..... Increased Employment

This record employment, however, is not the only indication of prosperity for the Detroit Market. In a series of Industrial Studies of Detroit, Lester K. Kirk, of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Detroit, reports that for the first six months of 1928, as compared with the same period of 1927—

Department Store Sales Increased..... 17.5%
Average Daily Bank Debits Increased ..... 16.2%
Industrial Power Consumption Increased 12.7%

With such favorable conditions prevailing in the world's highest wage paying metropolis, advertisers find an especially productive medium in The Detroit News, for The News has been for 55 years Detroit's home newspaper—four out of every five families in Detroit receiving an English newspaper take The Detroit News.

The value of The Detroit News' intensive home coverage is vividly reflected in the preference shown The News by advertisers in virtually every classification of advertising depending upon home reading for results. In classifications like Department Store, Classified, Furniture, Grocery and Food, Footwear, Radio, Women's Wear, Jewelry and Watches, Men's Wear, Toilet Articles, Electrical, The Detroit News publishes more advertising than both other Detroit newspapers combined. Likewise, The Detroit News leads in Automotive, Builders and Supplies, and Hardware and Sport Goods advertising.

You can share in the prosperity of the Detroit Market at a minimum advertising cost, for The Detroit News' thorough coverage of this rich area needs no supplementing with other media. Investigate the rare possibilities of Detroit and The Detroit News, its HOME newspaper.

Antoinette Finds That Complexions Are Improving

Corn Breads with Rye and Rice

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Consider the care a baby's skin is given and then ask why so few adults have the same skin, so often school girl complexion.

When you give the matter thought, the skin must be a tough old structure to withstand the neglect, the elements and the system-poison it is subjected to.

When I walk along the street or am in a public conveyance I study faces, a habit one acquires of not being able to forget one's own. When, however, because of the gratification a day of fate-exploring provides me. Of recent years, particularly, complexions are a matter of great personal pride. There are very few women, studying the mass, who do not look as if they possessed the pride I speak of. That there is pride of ability to wield a rouge pad and perhaps cover up what otherwise would be a pale, lifeless, less-than-yellow, is obvious. But the fact that the cover-up precaution is taken conscious that woman is complexion conscious, always the first step in complexion improvement.

How comparatively few shiny noses meet in a day's shopping tour!

But underneath the artifices there goes on year after year a marked improvement in the complexion itself. I think the reducing endeavors and the concurrent fruit and vegetable diets have contributed a great deal to the better complexion movement. Then we are all happy victims of a great health movement, the country over with its free instruction in newspapers, magazines, schools, camps, colleges, and so on.

Perfection isn't with us yet—but getting on toward it consider the care a baby's skin is given. The softness of the infant's skin, the delicate down on the face and the translucent coloring are its natural endowment, tended and fostered, however, by the almost hourly care that is taken of a baby.

salt, shortening and boiling water, mix and let stand twenty minutes. Then add the rye flour combined with baking powder and milk and nuts. Mix lightly and pour into a well buttered pan so that it will make a sort of sheet loaf. Let it stand in a warm place twenty minutes and bake in a moderately hot oven. Do not cut until cold.

which I have tried without success, to any final decision as to which is best, reads: One well beaten egg, one-half cup of corn meal, one and one-half cup of rye flour, one teaspoon of salt, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-third cup of boiling water, three-fourths cup milk, one tablespoon shortening, one-half cup of chopped nut meats, preferably pecans. Put the corn meal into a bowl, add

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

The chicken thief has become a well known character in America. A lone chicken thief can create a world of excitement in a rural community where he is considered one of the great handicaps to the poultry industry, particularly in the big egg belt of the central west, which is exposed to the crooks of Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, and many other smaller cities.

But city bred chicken thieves of the larger variety are not the biggest henhouse raiders that flock owners have to deal with. H. H. Alp of the University of Illinois at Urbana says chicken thieves, which have long been the target for rather drastic action in Illinois, have been shown up as pikers by disease, a henhouse "bandit" that often plunders without even being noticed, much less caught. In the six years last year lost 50,000 chickens from disease for every ninety lost to chicken thieves, he said.

"The lesson from this for the flock owner is to see that the colony and brooder house and the young chickens are on clean ground when kept clean," Alp says. He found that last year many men lost chickens from disease and parasites after moving the houses and playing to clean ground, due chiefly to the fact that the ground for ten or fifteen feet around the house was contaminated.

Moving the houses every month and driving them off will prevent this.

To keep contaminated hoppers and drinking dishes from spreading disease and parasites, Alp advises putting them on platforms with a one-fourth or one-half inch mesh wire top.

In addition all filth and rubbish which breeds flies should be destroyed. Use rock phosphate or gypsum on chicken manure to check fly breeding. This is recommended by Alp to guard against house flies that are intermediate hosts for tapeworms.

Announcement Made of Jean Dawes' Troth
to Robert T. Sherman

BY THALIA

Our news this morning concerns the engagement of Jean Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Coker Dawes of Evanston are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jean to Robert Trowbridge Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sherman, also of Evanston. Miss Dawes was graduated from Wellesley in 1922, and has been prominent in the activities of the Junior League of Evanston. Mr. Sherman was graduated from Princeton University in 1920 and from Harvard law school in 1923. The wedding is to take place the latter part of October or early in November.

Miss Dawes' parents are departing tonight in the party of their aunt and uncle, the Vice President and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, for a week in Canada.

They have chosen Manitoulin Island, up in the Georgian bay country, for their sojourn, which is merely for purposes of rest and quiet. Maybe you don't know that the lamb chops on Manitoulin Island are reported by others to surpass in succulence and all others, and then again maybe you do. The group includes, besides the Dawes children, Miss Virginia and Miss Dawes, Miss Rena Decker of Evanston, and Palmer Dawes, the son of Rufus Dawes.

After their sojourn in Canada the President and Mrs. Dawes are to make themselves to Phelps, Wis., where they will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lester E. Frankenthal at their place near Lone Lake.

Miss Eleanor Donnelley, daughter of Helen H. Donnelley and owner of a ranch in Sheridan, Wyo., is a guest of Wyoming, and the man of the Tepee Lodge, which is the ranch's nearest neighbor, came and forces last night to give what had been a grand and glorious party. The affair was an old fashioned barbecue and Indian powwow, as a sort of windup of the efforts of the cowboys and mountain men to entertain the dude ranchers who have been vacationing in the precincts, and which were attended by a number of Cheyenne social lights. One of the highlights of the evening was a real Indian war dance staged by a number of Crow Indians in their best and full regalia. Miss Donnelley, these engagement to Calvin Parden Edman, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. Erdman of Princeton, N. J., is leaving July ranch next week with several girls she has had to go to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carlton, father of the Hotel Ambassador are with their daughter, Miss Lillian Miller, to society at a tea on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 19, at the Ambassador East. Miss Dudley, who was graduated from Miss Walker's school at Sibbys, Conn., a year ago last June, will shortly afterward return to both college for her sophomore year.

At Christmas time the Dudleys are to give a dinner-dance for her in the red lacquer room of the Palmer Inn on Saturday evening, Dec. 23.

Miss H. Donnelley of Lake Forest is giving the use of his residence on Tuesday for a lecture by M. Paul of the Sorbonne, under the auspices of the guest committee of the Union Francaise. Mrs. Moise Dryden, chairman of the committee, who is the wife of Mrs. Hubert Dryden, Mrs. James Otis Hinckley, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. Gus G. Swift, Augustus S. Peabody, and John W. Root.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Alden of Winnetka are to open their Winnetka home on Saturday for a social evening of a basket picnic and lawn tea of the Daughters of the Republic.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles King Corson have leased an apartment at the Belvedere Stratford hotel, and are to take possession Sept. 1. Mrs. Corson's daughter, Countess de Bosdari, who arrived recently from England, will be with them for some time.

On June 1, later, Countess de Bosdari, accompanied by Mrs. Charles W. Folsom, who returned recently from Europe, has gone from New York City to a summer place in Vermont.

William H. Bush of 1538 North State Street has as house guests Mrs. Franklin T. Simmons and her daughter, Mrs. L. Blankenhorn.

Miss Katherine and Miss Jane Trowbridge, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Trowbridge of Lake Forest, are to sail tomorrow for a student's tour of Europe for two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen Jr. of Lake Forest and their daughter, Mrs. Bowen, have been visiting Mr. Bowen's mother, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, at Bar Harbor, Me.

Mr. George A. McKinney are visiting Mr. and Mrs. McCormick at Bar Harbor. Early next month Mrs. McCormick and Miss McCormick plan to visit the Adirondacks, and Mr. McKinney will return to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Roby, who married in New York in June, have returned from their honeymoon in the Willard, from an extended tour in the south.

Mrs. Theodore Du Moulin of Chicago is spending a few days at the Mayflower.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schuman, of the "Peacock Kelly" and the "Mysteries of Love" are absorbing drama power and passion.
